Phoenix Manor

A New Senior Housing Complex in Woodburn

Clear back in April of 2013 Woodburn, Indiana created a strategic plan which included a senior housing complex. The site targeted for this complex was the old Elementary School building. It wasn't until 2015 that documents were filed with the Allen County Plan Commission to actually bring this dream to fruition.

Since that time the community of Woodburn has watched New Generation Management* convert the shuttered school built in 1973 into a Senior Living Apartment complex named Phoenix Manor. Then four years after that strategic planning, on December 1, 2017 Phoenix Manor had their Grand Opening and Ribbon Cutting.

Phoenix Manor offers affordable housing to residents 55 and older. This 48,000+ square foot facility consists of 33 spacious and unique senior apartment style homes. Each unit includes 1 or 2 beat. All work is done locally and not mailed out to be lost forever. Our photograph conversion of photos and videos to DVD promise to bring the past to life! Our secretarial services offer email advertising and confidential legal typing. We also feature hosting and maintaining websites with professional results every time.

Sauder Manufacturing Co. was founded in 1945 as a Church furniture Company and is a wholly owned by the parent Sauder Woodworking Co. Sauder Manufacturing Co. has a rich history in crafting solid wood into beautiful, enduring, quality furniture and today that is blended with modern technology and a strong customer focus.

We've celebrated "70" years of success.

Sauder Manufacturing. Co. sells into 4

Strategic Markets:

*Healthcare Furniture for Acute Care Hospitals.

*Education Furniture for College and Universities.

*Worship Furniture for Churches, Synagogues, Courthouses, and funeral homes.

*Furniture for the Human Services market which is a diverse network of agencies providing residential housing to many individuals.

The manufacturing processes combine the traditions of craftsmanship and modern technology to serve each customer with a unique configured to their needs, order, delivered in a short lead time. Sauder does this by integrating the core competencies found in our 4 manufacturing locations in 3 different states. Everyone is familiar with the Archbold location but there are 3 other locations: Stryker Ohio, Grabill Indiana, and Chase City Virginia. Together over 550 employees serve our many customers. Along with solid wood and veneer, materials such as fabric, steel, and plastics are very evident in the unique designs that serve our markets. Sauder Manufacturing Co. is known for using the "voice of the customer" in both the bedrooms, kitchenette with microwave, oven, refrigerator, and even a dishwasher! Today, even older people are more computer literate than ever and because of this, there is a computer lab on site with internet for residents to keep up with the latest on the web. To keep this generation healthy, a fitness center is also set up for residents and will be open to the community for only a small fee each year. For entertainment there is a movie theater and library available. The Woodburn Clothing Bank has also chosen this complex to locate in, giving residents and the community as a whole a nice place to access used clothing.

Open House

The complex has an onsite manager and a maintenance technician for the convenience of the residents. For questions or to schedule a tour just call Nikki Gillenwater at 260-632-3017.

*New Generation Management, Inc., a family owned company, is known for its timely lease-up, meticulous curb appeal, and for controlling operating expenses, a good way to keep your rent low. They have the people, experience, and the pride to provide quality management whether you're an apartment community owner looking for a management company, or if you're simply an apartment renter looking for management that will take great care of you, the buildings and grounds around you. Their goal is to build new communities that offer a high quality of life with affordable rent. They work and will continue to work hard to make sure residents of a New Generation managed apartment communities are the happiest residents of all.

program offers a unique experience for athletes of all ages and experience levels. The program starts by analyzing each participant's body function and mechanics for errors, asymmetries, or imbalances in mobility, stability, and strength. Once these areas are discovered, we implement a personalized training regimen to start fixing the dysfunction. As the dysfunctional movement is eliminated, the focus of the training shifts to speed, agility, and power with a sport specific approach. The goal of this program is to enhance the movement of each participant so that they can find gains in performance, injury prevention, and daily living. We want to provide a program that does not throw weight lifting or high volume training upon dysfunction.

Indiana Physical Therapy understands that each parent, team, and student athlete has busy schedules. For that reason, sessions will be offered during regular business hours, late evenings as well as on Saturdays. IPFW

Partners with Keysight Technologies to Offer New Certification Program

Indiana University-Purdue University Fort Wayne (IPFW) and Keysight Technologies are now working together to offer an RF (Radio Frequency) and MW (Microwave) Industry-Ready Student Certification Program to electrical and computer engineering students in the College of Engineering, Technology, and Computer Science.

Keysight Technologies, formerly known as Agilent, is an American company that manufactures electronics test and measurement equipment and software and has 70 service locations, including one in Fort Wayne.

Keysight will issue the RF and MW Certificates to industry-ready students who are approved by their instructors in courses that require the students to demonstrate RF/MW design and measurement expertise.

"The curriculum and labs at each university focus on the design, building, measurement, and analysis of RF/MW components to help students gain real-world understanding in design and measurement techniques," said Todd Cutler, vice president and general manager of Keysight Design and Test Software.
